"The best of all is, God is with us!"

- The Journal of John Wesley, ed., Percy Livingstone Parker, (Chicago, IL: Moody Press), 419

During this winter season, what is your favorite thing to do? Mine is having a cup of "Peppermint Mocha." You can easily find it as a seasonal drink at any café. The reason why I really like Peppermint Mocha is that it is not only delicious, but it also reminds me of the one who is my center of life – Jesus Christ.

Let's think about the main ingredients of a Peppermint Mocha. Espresso, chocolate, milk, peppermint. First of all, like Espresso, Jesus always wakes me up. When my Spirit is sleeping and I'm not able to find God's presence or his love around me, Jesus always wakes my Spirit up. Also when I struggle with some problems, he always wakes me up. Then I can come back to the right path on which God leads me.

Secondly, like Chocolate, his love is so sweet. Since Jesus Christ loved us so much, he came to us. And his love has already prevailed in our midst. Also, we need to remember that as we spread his love by sharing what we have, serving others, and caring for one another, the sweetness of his love spreads out more and more to every corner of the world. Indeed, Jesus is love itself. So, once you taste his love, no one can make you stop.

Thirdly, like milk, Jesus nourishes us. As a mom feeds her baby, through his love, wisdom, guidance, teaching and words, Jesus nourishes us. We grow by his love in his grace and we grow up through faith in him.

Lastly, like peppermint, Jesus refreshes us. God created human beings from the dust of the ground, and he breathed life into each one of us, so we started breathing. Because of Jesus, you can be who you really are. When you have become weary, tired, or thirsty, his love makes you feel renewed or more energetic.

Likewise, Jesus reveals himself through every situation you encounter, every person you meet, and through everything that you can't even imagine. I hope and pray this new year, you will find and experience Jesus in your midst in new and different ways. Happy New Year!

Blessings,

Pastor Ran

Fear Not! (Please note this was from the Bishop on Dec. 18th)

So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will bring worries of its own. Today's trouble is enough for today. - Matthew 6:34

Let me share with you what I want more than anything else for Christmas: I would like faith to displace fear as the driving motivational value in our global culture, community, and church. Today's church and world is being torn apart by fear, worry, anxiety, and angst. Fear, in a multitude of disguises – anger, violence, prejudice, exclusion, judgmentalism, caustic rhetoric, suspicion, security systems and weapons, insult comedy, racism, sexism, classism, on and on – makes belief in a redeeming, saving, life-affirming, and generative faith seem irrational, unreasonable, gullible, and immature. Who in their right mind would feel good about our world in its present condition?

Well, God for one. "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life." In a world of turmoil, conflict, and rampant fear, we have a Messiah, a Savior, a counter-cultural reality that has the power to transform and make all things new.

But fear is a pathology in our society. It has taken root in our very DNA, and it causes us to act and react in some of the most toxic, unhelpful, self-defeating, and destructive ways possible. It seems easier to break things than to fix them; to split apart instead of working together for unity and peace; sacrificing the common good and a universal peace and security for personal, private, and individual short-term, inadequate solutions. Who can we trust? The "other" is strange, foreign, unsettling, dangerous. With this mindset, does the Gospel even stand a chance?

Two phrases in Greek, me phobou and me phobeisthe, occur frequently throughout the Christian scriptures. The first simply means, "be not afraid," while the second, more specifically and pointedly, means "YOU be not afraid," and it is both plural and indicative. If a person has faith, fear ceases to be an issue. Faith and fear cannot occupy the same space. Doubt or skepticism are not the opposites of faith; fear is. Where God is present, fear flies out the window. Jesus and Paul share the simple and clear admonition, "do not be afraid." Don't make it harder than it needs to be: Jesus Christ, Savior of the World, Prince of Peace, Wonderful Counselor, Immanuel, Messiah, Lord of All, reigns in us – not fear. If God is for us, who can stand against us?

What will happen to us in February after the special session of General Conference? What happens if our borders allow too many foreigners into our country? What if peace talks break down in Korea? What if China gains too much power? What happens if we allow gay and lesbian leadership in the church? What happens if the other political party gains power? What happens if the other political party stays in power? What about gun violence, disease, computer hackers and identity thieves? Well, what about them? God is greater than any and all of our fears, anxieties, doubts, and delusions.

What I want most for Christmas is that we regain our center, and we reorient ourselves to God. I want to see God's people of faith to rise above our divisions to be a witness to the power and strength of God's love and grace. I want the world to look at the church and see a better way of being in the world and responding to the causes of so much fear and dread. In short, I want us who have received the miracle of God's love called Christmas, to live as Christmas people every day of the years to come. People of faith, not fear; people of love and grace, not anxiety; people of hope and trust, not suspicion and distrust.

My prayer for all of you, beautiful people of the Wisconsin Conference, is that the peace of Christ may reign and rule in your hearts and minds, and may the Messiah be born again in your life this Christmas.

Grace and Peace,

Bishop Hee-Soo Jung

GIVING INVITATION January 2019

"Ask, and it will be given you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened for you. For everyone who asks receives, and everyone who searches finds, and for everyone who knocks, the door will be opened. (Matthew 7:7-8)

Henri Nouwen has said, "Asking people for money is giving them the opportunity to put their resources at the disposal of the Kingdom."

If God wants us to build the Kingdom of God, then he wants us to invite others to support it. This is evangelism because the good news is that God has faith in us to build the Kingdom.

There are a number of steps in the asking process and asking is a later step, not the first:

Ask God First! We must first trust in God that we can succeed in soliciting support for the missions and ministries we seek to support. We come to God in prayer to ask God for support before asking anyone else.

Love the person you are asking. We must also love the person we are asking for support, giving them the means to become a brother or sister in Christ through their support of the Kingdom. We must trust that the Spirit of Christ that is guiding us is also guiding them.

Ask on behalf of the Kingdom of God. We are asking potential donors to invest in the work of God. Whether their ability to give is great or small, what matters is that they are making their gift available to God.

Be grateful for the answer. Whether the answer is yes or no or maybe or some-day, we must be grateful that the person listened and gave us an honest answer. We have offered something of great value and that is what is important to us.

SPECIAL SUNDAYS IN 2019

Special Sundays in The United Methodist Church are intended to illustrate the nature and calling of the church and are celebrated annually. Special Sundays are placed on the calendar in the context of the Christian year, which is designed to make clear the calling of the church as the people of God, and to give persons the opportunity to contribute offerings to special programs. Your support is critical to the survival of these important ministries (listed below) and for sharing God's gifts around the world.

Six General Conference-approved Special Sundays with offerings are listed in boldface type. Special Sundays, or time periods, with Virginia Conference-approved offerings are marked with an asterisk (*).
