March 2019

I want to share part of my sermon from Jan 20, 2019 with you as we wait for the results from the upcoming 2019 Special General Conference being held February 23 - 26, 2019. I Hope and pray that this sermon will help you (the congregation) with how we solve this issue in the love of God as children of the same God and the same church family.

"Let Us Stay United. -1 Corinthians 12:1-11-"

In all ages, it is not easy to recognize and respect the diversity of the gifts of the Holy Spirit. People usually tend to reject or feel threatened by something different or something new. However, obviously, each one of us is given different gifts of the Holy Spirit. If we all received the same gift, with no difference at all, it would be rather strange. The Message records 1 Corinthians 12:7 this way: "Each person is given something to do that shows who God is: Everyone gets in on it, everyone benefits. All kinds of things are handed out by the Spirit, and to all kinds of people! The variety is wonderful." The Corinthians misunderstood something different as something wrong. But, different is different. How can we say you are wrong because you are different?

Although we all have received various gifts of the Holy Spirit abundantly, we do not use them wisely in the church. We do not use them to be one with Christ and one with each other and to work together, united in Spirit. Instead we continue to disunite and to judge each other. However, we need to remember that in spite of all the differences, we are one, united with Christ and with one another in the Spirit of God.

For a long time, the United Methodist Church could not be truly united in one Spirit because many people have different understandings of Human Sexuality. Even though we believed that the Bible is definitively the primary source of our faith and theological reflection for United Methodists, each party – fundamentalist and progressivist – have different ways to interpret the scripture. They fight each other with completely different interpretations on the same scriptures. They interpret them to strengthen their voice. However, for all Christians, the focal point of the Bible should always be Jesus Christ. In Matthew 22:37-40, Jesus gave us the great commandment: love your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and love your neighbors as yourself. All the Laws and the Prophets depend on these two commands.

Until now, we spent so much time and energy trying to define who is right and who is wrong, but from this effort, the only thing that we have found out is just how different we are from each other. Now it is the time to sincerely pray and think about how we speak together about all the differences. Since we are different, we need each other. Argument, conflict, judgement, and division are not the way forward. We need to focus on how we walk together for the kingdom of God and go altogether for it beyond our differences.

Remember, whether you support the fundamentalist or progressivist viewpoint or just stay in the middle, each one of us is a neighbor to each other whom Jesus taught us to love. As we have always been, by the Spirit of God we are one in Christ and one with each other in ministry to all the world until Christ comes in final victory and we feast at his heavenly banquet. Let us stay united. Praise God. Amen.

Blessings,

Pastor Kook Ho

STAY UNITED

Well Done Wisconsin

His master said to him, "Well done, good and trustworthy steward; you have been trustworthy in a few things, I will put you in charge of many things; enter into the joy of your master." Matthew 25:21

I want to echo the gospel writers, my faithful sisters and brothers, "Well done, good and trustworthy stewards!" We have so much to celebrate as the Wisconsin Conference. I am inspired and excited by your faithfulness in moving together through a challenging and often difficult year financially. As the cabinet, Council on Finance and Administration, Personnel Committee, and the leadership of our boards and agencies pulled together to make significant financial decisions, we were able to make appropriate adjustments to both finish with our budget in the black AND to pay our general church apportionments 100%!

This was not easy, and at times felt almost impossible, but we walked by faith, rather than by sight, and pulled together in amazing ways to do excellent ministry with fewer resources. One reason for this is that our leaders collaborated in significant ways. Instead of protecting budgets and competing for resources, we worked together as one conference, helping all to do the best way possible. In the biblical tradition of the church in Corinth, those in our conference with more resources shared abundantly with those who had less, and we were able to cover our missional needs.

And our local congregations stepped up as well, supporting our Mission churches and critical ministries not fully funded this past year. There were painful cuts to staffing, and some of our important ministries were deferred, but the way we worked together to find creative solutions was miraculous. We offer great thanks to our Wisconsin United Methodist Foundation for their guidance and support through this time. Much appreciation goes to our Council on Finance and Administration for the new and improved accountability processes for our budgeting and spending.

To every church that paid their apportionments in full, thank you for your leadership and witness; and to those who faithfully paid as much as they could, we express appreciation as well. If every church will work toward 100% payment, we will see amazing things happen in the Wisconsin Conference.

All of this excellent news lays a firm foundation upon which we build our Launch Out! campaign. I want to share with you the excitement and passion people are beginning to express about our faith-raising campaign. And I emphasize FAITH-raising, not just fund-raising. People are not responding because of financial need but due to a transformative vision for vital, life-giving, life-saving, disciple-making ministry in Wisconsin's future. People are catching the vision and making substantial investments in the future ministry of our Conference. While a few voices question the timing of this campaign – given short-term financial challenges and the uncertainty of the upcoming special session of General Conference – the vast majority want to stay focused on exciting ministry and the ways we can honor and glorify God through our stewardship and service. Many say that regardless of what happens in February, the work of God must go on.

In times of anxiety and uncertainty, our faith is put to the test. I am proud and excited to say that Wisconsin Conference is passing this test with flying colors. We are preparing to Launch Out! in faith, to do God's will, to share in God's work, and to bring God's realm to fruition in each and every one of our faith communities. Blessings to you all. Well done, good and faithful stewards!

Grace and Peace,

Bishop Hee-Soo Jung

GIVING

Why Do I Give

March 2019

The wicked borrow and do not repay,
but the righteous give generously. (2 Psalm 37:21)

People give to the church for a variety of reasons that form a hierarchy of motivations. Where they fall on the hierarchy is related closely to how much, proportionately, they give; how willingly they give; how they respond to being asked to pledge their support to the mission and ministry of the church, and how openly they talk about their giving. What motivates you to give?

Some people feel called to give out of their faith. Giving generously feels right and natural. It is a part of their discipleship. In turn, they are grateful for their own blessings including a place in the church where they can contribute.

Some people feel fulfilled by giving. They derive joy, energy and good feelings from giving. They value the church in their lives and want to support it so it is there for others.

Some people value giving as a duty. It is the right thing to do and creates good in the world. Giving influences the community for good and connects the giver with the community.

Some people would feel guilty if they did not give. They feel giving is something they should do, even if they would rather not. Alternatively, that fear they will be shamed if they do not give.

Finally, some people feel coerced. They feel their situation compels them to give.

Which of these describes why you give? Which do you think would be most pleasing to God? Next month, how to move up the hierarchy...

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN'S

Our main topic of study for 2019 will be "Living Simply" to follow through with our church's "Treasures" study, financial campaign theme and a UMW mission study "What About Our Money". We will be gathering ideas for reusing, repurposing, reducing waste, organizing our homes, recycling and living in harmony with our planet. Also, to tie in with this year's 150 Year Legacy Celebration, we hope to resurrect some of the depression/war era recipes and practices of those women who have gone before us. Bring your ideas, in writing, to the meetings. We also welcome ideas from non-members. Place them in the UMW mailbox at church or send them to LuAnne Martell at lbmavon@gmail.com. Hopefully all of the submitted ideas can be compiled into a booklet.

On February 13th we had a cleaning crew of five to work in the kitchen. Thank you to all who came to help. When I arrived back at church at 4:00 pm to bake pizzas for the Go Fish Kids, it felt good to walk into a newly cleaned kitchen. We still have some silver to clean and it has been pointed out that there is brass to clean from the church altar so I'll try to organize another cleaning day in the spring. At noon we quit for lunch and fellowship. Kayleen brought her delicious Chicken Taco Soup and fresh bread to supplement our bag lunches. Pastor Ran joined us for lunch and the meeting that followed. We planned the menu and worker shifts for the March 13th Blood Drive. Please (all congregation) take a look at the church clipboard sign up sheet to see how you can help. We also talked about the 150 Year Legacy Celebration in Eau Claire on March 23rd. Information about the days activities and registration are in the February "Weaver" newsletter that I've pinned to the bulletin board. A great deal of work has gone into planning a great day. Please consider attending. UMW is willing to help with a hotel room for those who want to drive down on Friday, March 22nd. For mission giving, our unit will be donating to the church general fund in conjunction with the church February mission and to the Youth Fund for their summer trips. Members were encouraged to read books from the UMW Reading Program. Books from 2014-2019 apply towards completing reading levels this year. Titles can be found online, search UMW Reading Program and click "all books".

The next meeting will be at 1:00 pm, at church, on April 10th. Pastor Ran will be speaking to us about the Butterfly House in St. Croix Falls. We will have a "prayer bead" craft. Valetta will serve refreshments.

LuAnne Martell, UMW President.

Lent IS A TIME TO GROW
CLOSER TO JESUS

Lent is a time of repentance, fasting and preparation for the coming of Easter. It is a time of self-examination and reflection. In the early church, Lent was a time to prepare new converts for baptism. Today, Christians focus on their relationship with God, often choosing to give up something or to volunteer and give of themselves for others.

Sundays in Lent are not counted in the forty days because each Sunday represents a "mini-Easter" and the reverent spirit of Lent is tempered with joyful anticipation of the Resurrection.

There is no one prescribed right way. We are each encouraged to find our own method of confronting our sinfulness, remembering our mortality and giving thanks for the gift of salvation we receive through the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Some common practices are fasting or abstaining from certain things, reading your Bible, prayer, service work and making time for rest. You determine what is right for you...
