May 2018

Beginning in February I prepared a series of easily understandable articles to explain Methodism through my ministerial experiences. I hope these articles will help you better understand Methodism and confirm and develop your faithful identification as a Methodist.

Q) What is the nature and mission of the church? What are its primary tasks today?

The origin of the word church is from the Greek, Ecclesia, which means ‘call out.’ The church is the place where people gather to worship and give thanks to God. It is also the place where those who are gathered accomplish the work of fulfilling the will of God. Paul defines the church in 1 Corinthians 1:2, “To the Church of God that is in Corinth, to those who are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, together with all those who in every place call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.” This means that the church is not about the building, but the people of God who are summoned in the name of Jesus Christ.

The Book of Discipline offers an explanation of the mission and definition of the church: “To make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world by proclaiming the good news of God’s grace and by exemplifying Jesus’ command to love God and neighbor, thus seeking the fulfillment of God’s reign and realm in the world. The fulfillment of God’s reign and realm in the world is the vision Scripture holds before us.”

The mission of the church has been entrusted to us to be carried out through worship, edification of believers, and redemption of the world. I strongly believe that these are not just roles. The church does this naturally in the world through believers. We never stay only in the church or our houses, but also go into the world with the Gospel. The church from its beginning has existed for the world, yet it remains separate from the world. It has proclaimed the Word of God and made disciples. The church not only proclaims the Word of God, but also serves as the place where disciples of Jesus grow in faith, witness God’s works in fellow believers’ lives, and learn God’s attributes.

There is an African proverb that says, “It takes a village to raise a child.” I think it shows very well the primary work of the church today. For raising a child, we not only need a good church but we also need a good community. We do not stay only at church, for beyond the church we need to connect and serve our community through God’s love. Likewise, we need to make an effort to improve social justice in our world.

GRANTSBURG: MISSIONS & MEETINGS

MAY MISSION: IMAGINE NO MALARIA

Imagine no Malaria is an effort of the people of the United Methodist Church putting faith into action to end preventable deaths by malaria in Africa, especially the deaths of a child or a mother. Imagine No Malaria works in partnership with the United Nations Foundation and The Global Fund. The program is focused on delivering four key components:

1. Prevention: Mosquito nets, draining standing water, trimming foliage and proper sanitation are all critical to preventing malaria.
2. Treatment: The United Methodist Church has been working in Africa for more than 160 years. The church has the infrastructure of more than 300 clinics and hospitals in Africa. The campaign has the goal of getting appropriate medications and diagnostic tests to those facilities.
3. Education: Training local community health workers to educate people on the symptoms and defenses against malaria and how to use mosquito nets.
4. Communications: The program provides education on malaria and information through its vast radio network in Africa.

I have witnessed the lose of life of adults, children and unborn babies with my work overseas. I have personally had malaria 4 times and I know the importance of prevention and treatment. I feel is an important mission of the United Methodist Church. ~ Deb Hammer

ALTERNATE WAYS OF GIVING

How much do you feel called to return to God to say "thank you" for the blessings you've received? In reviewing your finances and taxes for the year ahead, we invite you to consider the following creative options for meeting your charitable giving goals.

Your Gift	How to Make that Gift	Your Benefits
Appreciated stock, securities, or other assets	Donate stock, securities, or mutual fund shares through the Foundation at no fee.	An income tax deduction and avoidance of capital gains tax. This allows you to make a larger gift than if you made it with cash.
Direct gift of up to $100,000 from Traditional or Roth IRA	If you're 70-1/2 or older, ask your IRA administrator to make a gift directly to the church or another charity from your Traditional or Roth IRA.	You can make a generous gift that is tax-free and can count for the mandatory minimum withdrawal from your IRA. It is a direct gift to charity, which means you do not pay income tax on the withdrawal. Nor does it affect your Social Security income.
Deferred Gift from an IRA or other Retirement Plan	Name the church or another charity as a beneficiary of the remaining assets after your lifetime.	You'll be able to leave your less heavily taxed assets to family, and others that you love.
Real Estate	Donate property to the church through the Foundation.	Avoid capital gains taxes, receive an immediate charitable deduction, and possibly establish a life income trust.

REMEMBER THOSE WHO SERVED

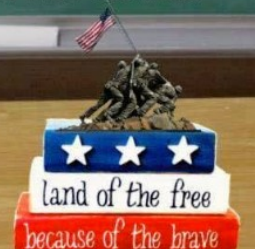

ALL GAVE SOME, SOME GAVE ALL

★★★ MILITARY HOLIDAYS 101 ★★★

ARMED FORCES DAY: A day to recognize and thank the Active Duty men and women who are CURRENTLY and courageously serving in all of our military branches.

VETERANS DAY: A day set aside to thank and honor ALL of those who SERVED honorably in our Armed Forces - in wartime or peacetime. In fact, Veterans Day is largely intended to thank LIVING veterans for their service. To acknowledge that their contributions to our national security is and always will be appreciated, and to emphasize the fact that all those who served - not only those who died - have sacrificed and done their duty.

MEMORIAL DAY: A day to remember, show respect, and honor the brave men and women who DIED while in service to our country. They paid the ultimate sacrifice and are missed by spouses, children, parents, extended family, friends, and their comrades everyday of the year. This day encourages other Americans to reflect on their sacrifice.

A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

GIVING

Questions for a Money Autobiography, Pt 2 May 2018

Each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. (2 Corinthians 9:7)

From Writing a Money Autobiography by Dan Dick

A money autobiography is a reflection process on the role and influence of money and material possessions in our life. It challenges us to explore the past to see how our attitudes, assumptions, and values concerning money and wealth were formed.

Values Questions concerning money & wealth

- In what ways are you a spender? A saver? In what ways are you generous? Stingy?
- Although money can't buy happiness, what are some of the things money can buy that bring happiness?
- What do you like best about money? What do you like least?
- What things in life are worth more than money? How does your lifestyle reflect the relative importance of these things to money?
- How has gender influenced your thinking about money? What differences do you see in how men and women relate to money?
- Which of the following words best communicates your attitudes and feelings about money? Why? Money is... power, security, hope, love, pleasure, prestige, dirty, value, anxiety, identity, a tool, freedom, protection, evil, comfort, fun.
- Reflect on times when you have given to meet the needs of another. Or, when you were on the receiving end of a gift? How did you feel?

It is useful to create a money autobiography journal to record your thoughts, reflections, and feelings. Then, you can return to the money autobiography journal months and years afterward.
