Servant of God's church. -Colossians 1:24-29-

The day before Independence Day, my family visited a very special place during our family vacation. It was Mount Rushmore National Memorial, which is centered on a sculpture carved into the granite face of Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills in Keystone, South Dakota. The sculpture features the 60-foot (18 m) heads of Presidents George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt, and Abraham Lincoln.

Sculptor Gutzon Borglum created the sculpture's design and oversaw the project's execution and he died in March 1941, so his son Lincoln took over as leader of the construction project. Each president was originally to be depicted from head to waist, but lack of funding forced construction to end on October 31, 1941. From this short history, we can't even imagine how difficult this project was. Although Gutzon did not see the result of his project before his death, his mission was continued and finally ended up by his son. And, now Mount Rushmore not only attracts more than two million visitors annually, but also inspires strong national identity and pride to many people.

Through the New Testament, we see apostle Paul whom had a very difficult mission to complete, which is spreading the gospel. In Colossians 1:23, Paul said that "God's plan was to make me a servant of his church and to send me to preach his complete message to you." And I think that this call to be a servant of God's church is not only for Paul, but also for all of us. Then, what should we do as servants of God's church?

First, let us rejoice even in suffering (v.24). Because of the unexpected pastoral change and how the new future of our three point charge with one pastor will go, we all are confused, frustrated, concerned and a bit angry. However, we need to remember that this situation will never change the great mission that we have. Although this came to us in a sudden and unexpected way, this rather strongly reminds us what we need to do in the here and now. We must continue to live our call in the place where God calls us.

Secondly, let us serve the church according to the commission of God (v.25). For the past 3 years, I witnessed the wonderful gifts that each one of you have shared as one body of Christ. God gave each one of us a very special gift. As the servants of the church, let us find it and use it as much as we can for the church and for the world until the kingdom of God is fully realized in here.

Thirdly, let us warn and teach everyone, so that they will grow and become mature in faith (v.28). When we are trying to fulfill our mission as God's servants even in difficult environments, God helps us to fulfill God's great mission. Christ our Lord never leaves his beloved followers alone. As he promised to be with us to the end of the age in Matthew 28:20, he always walks with us and works in us and in our lives during our journey of faith. In addition, if we are willing to do the work that God has called us to do, our Lord enables us to take on any hard and rough things that are set before us. No matter how difficult a situation we are in, God will continue His great mission with His faithful people.

Let me go back to the story of Mount Rushmore National Memorial. I think Gutzon Borglum did not really know how big its impact would be. I bet there were countless moments that he wanted to give up. But he never gave up, even though his project was finished by his son's hands. Also, in the case of Paul, although he was a very faithful evangelist, he did not complete his mission in his time. He was struggling with a lot of trials, but he never gave up. So, now we are continuing his work in our time. Likewise, we may not see the fruits of the seeds that we were sowing in our time, but if we sow them in faith, love, and hope, they will bear lots of fruits in God's time. God will empower us to be faithful servants for God's mission. My beloved brothers and sisters in Christ. God calls each one of us to be the servant of God's church. Let us respond to this call by serving where God calls us to be and doing what God calls us to do.

Blessings, Pastor Ran Yoo

One New Humanity

"Thus, says the Lord of hosts: Render true judgments, show kindness and mercy to one another; do not oppress the widow, the orphan, the alien, or the poor; and do not devise evil in your hearts against one another."

I want to invite us all to do something very difficult. I want us to think about the current immigration issues from a spiritual and theological perspective rather than from a political perspective. The media and our governmental leaders exert great influence in shaping our thinking and feelings about immigrants, both documented and undocumented. The focus is often on concerns about strangers and fears about criminals and threats to security. Sometimes these are valid concerns, but more often than not, they are exceptions rather than what is normal.

But set aside the political debate and the media hype. Let us reflect on our Christian faith as people of God. Here we find a completely different approach to immigration. First, we must acknowledge the most famous and important immigrant of all, Jesus the Christ. Closely following, Abraham, Moses, Jeremiah, Miriam, Deborah – many prominent figures from our Hebrew ancestors fit our definitions of immigrant, in many cases undocumented.

Second, we have Jesus' teachings. Who is our neighbor? Who are we responsible for? Where does our responsibility end? For widows, orphans, the alien, the stranger, the poor – we are instructed (through the words of the prophet Micah in 6:8) "He has told you, O mortal, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?" Micah is speaking very clearly to an immigrant people.

Third, Paul echoes the teaching of Jesus in many places, none more powerful than his message to the church in Ephesus, that through Christ Jesus God is making one new humanity – destroying all the dividing walls and uniting all people. (Ephesians 2:15-16) Jesus and Paul preach diligently that the divisions of "us" and "them" are erased by faith, and that for Christians we are called to care for the least of these among us: "Then the righteous will answer him, "Lord, when was it that we saw you hungry and gave you food, or thirsty and gave you something to drink? And when was it that we saw you a stranger and welcomed you, or naked and gave you clothing? And when was it that we saw you sick or in prison and visited you?" And the king will answer them, "Truly I tell you, just as you did it to one of the least of these who are members of my family, you did it to me." (Matthew 25:37-40)

Fourth, our United Methodist tradition, and the shared values of our antecedent denominations, clearly favor care for the stranger, the alien, the dispossessed, and the immigrant. The commitment to social justice, global missions, and relational evangelism make welcoming the stranger a cornerstone of our covenant community. John Wesley sought to help Methodist leaders envision our world at the kingdom/kin-dom of God. The realm of God and the risen Christ welcomes all who believe, regardless of class, race, culture, ethnicity, economic caste, education, or theological nuance. In Christ, we are made one. Through faith we are the incarnation of Christ, and we exist to offer Christ to everyone we meet.

Last, I would encourage all of us not to demonize immigrants. The vast majority are not villains or enemies. And even should we choose to view them as enemies, Jesus has very clear instructions for us: "You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy." But I say to you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be children of your Father in heaven; for he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the righteous and on the unrighteous. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers and sisters, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect." (Matthew 5:43-48) So, I encourage all of us to be perfected in God's holy love, by praying for our immigrant brothers and sisters and children as we do for our family at home.

This wonderful country of the United States is a nation of immigrants. Our diversity is our strength. Should we hold people accountable? Yes. Should we encourage all to be lawful observers of our customs and codes. Yes. But, should we be making it possible for all to receive adequate food, lodging, safety, opportunity, shelter, and protection? According to the prophets of old – from Zechariah and Micah and Jeremiah to Jesus and Paul – there is no room for debate. God is working through us by the Holy Spirit to make "one new humanity." So, let us all remember, "Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by doing that some have entertained angels without knowing it." (Hebrews 13:2)

Grace and Peace, Bishop Hee-Soo Jung

GIVING

The Impact of our Giving

August 2019

Be doers of the word, and not merely hearers who deceive themselves. For ... those who look into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and persevere, being not hearers who forget but doers who act—they will be blessed in their doing. (James 1: 22-23; 25)

Much of what we read about stewardship is exhortation to give to the church and to missions. It often answers how and what without answering why. What is the impact of our giving on the mission of the church?

Often, the church describes how it uses our gifts like this. In the table, we see that across all our Wisconsin United Methodist churches a third of our giving pays for clergy, 19% for other staff, 27% for building and utilities, and so on.

	Clergy	Staff	Bldg	Apport	Prog	Mission	Loans
Annual Conf	33%	19%	27%	9%	4%	4%	4%
Main St UMC	50%	9%	22%	14%	1%	4%	0%

Bldg=Building Costs; Apport=Apportionment Costs; Prog=Program Costs

A second line shows these same costs for "Main St" UMC. Clergy costs are a higher percent of budget, while staff, programs, and loans are less. The table below, in contrast, shows MSUMC's costs by areas of ministry. Worship receives the greater proportion of gifts given to the church, while missions is second and spiritual formation is third.

	Worship	Spiritual Formation	Congregational Care	Hospitality +Outreach	Missions
Main St	38%	21%	11%	8%	23%

Do you love to give for loan principle and interest, or for worship? For staff benefits, or for congregational care? Ask your finance team to produce an impact budget, so you can see the good your giving is doing.

GOODBYE, BEST WISHES & THANK YOU....

Dear Pastor Kook Ho & Pastor Ran, ♡ † ♡ † ♡

You have been such a blessing to me, our church family and the community. You both have blessed us in so many ways: through your leadership, your knowledge of God's word, your beautiful music, engagement and nurturing of our youth, your consistent and dependable visitations with those who could not make it to church, your service and participation within the communities in the parish, your council and guidance to those in need, your powerful and heartfelt Sunday messages, your increase of our parish presence on social media and the internet (pushing us into the 21st century), the list goes on and on.

You really are wonderful pastors, and I'm thankful to God for your presence in my life and grateful for all you've done for our church, community and me personally. I will miss you so much. "How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard." -Winnie the Pooh

Love and Best Wishes,
Colleen
