It Bears Much Fruit

“Very truly, I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a single grain; but if it bears much fruit. Those who love their life lose it, and those who hate their life in this world will keep it for eternal life. Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there will my servant be also. Whoever serves me, God [the Father] will honor” (John 12:24-26, NRSV).

When I knew about God at first, I promised God. “If you heal me, I will do whatever you want of me, and I will go wherever you send me.” My spine was broken, God’s healing was desperately needed because my doctor gave up on my healing any further. As if God accepted my promise, I was treated, and I went a seminary for keeping my promise to God. After I graduated the seminary, I planted a new church and did ministry for six years there. But, when it was my sixth anniversary at the church, my mother passed away. I was really upset with God because I could not understand why God took my mother away at that time.

I went up a mountaintop, where there is a prayer place, to ask God why God took my mother away from me. I did not eat any food there, and I just blamed God as if Elijah did. After Elijah killed all the prophets of Baal at Mount Carmel, he ran away from Jezebel. He went into the wilderness, sat down under a solitary broom tree. And he said, “It is enough now, O Lord take away my life.” (1King 19:15-16)

As Elijah did, I prayed to God, “it is enough, take my life away. I went a seminary because of you, I planted a new church because of you, and I worked hard there because of you. I did everything whatever you wanted of me, but you took my mother away from me. So, it is enough to take my life away as well.” As God asked Elijah, “What are you doing here?” I felt God asks me, “What are you doing here?”

At that time, I wore eyeglasses because my eyesight was poor. But, I threw them away. I thought I do not need my eyeglasses anymore because God will take my life away. When I threw away my glasses, I told God, “I do not need my eyeglasses; you can take my life away. If you do not take my life away, you should tell me the reason why I should live.” I thought even though I would die, I am right with God. I felt as if I would die unless God tells me the reason why I should live. For the grief of the loss of my mother, I found nothing to help me. I would follow my mother, even if I died.

We often ask God, “God, how long should I wait for you?” If we wait for God's answer in urgency, the waiting, perhaps, may seem much longer than normal. However, God may ask us, “What are you doing here?”

Let me invite you to the Gospel of Matthew. The story goes that Jesus, Peter, James and his brother John went on a journey up a high mountain. When they arrived, suddenly, Jesus began shining like the sun so that his clothes looked a dazzling white color. And as if that were not enough, Moses and Elijah appeared alongside him. Before Jesus died on the cross, he took his disciples to the mountaintop and showed them his transfiguration. Peter said to Jesus. “Lord, it is good for us to be here; if you wish, I will make three dwellings here, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah” (Mathew 17). Did Jesus expect his disciples to build his dwelling there? Jesus might want his disciples to believe that even though he will die on the cross, he will resurrect again. Also though Jesus lifts up to God, Jesus would be with his disciples forever. That is, perhaps, what he showed his disciples as the living God.

In fact, before Jesus took his disciples to the mountaintop, Peter answered. "You are the Messiah, the Son of the living God." Following the answer, however, when Jesus talked about his great suffering and death on the cross, Peter took Jesus aside and began to rebuke him, saying, "God forbid it, Lord!"

When we lose a loved one or what we see that our loved one suffers, it leads us to lose our reason even though we are Christians. It is too painful to handle. We may not think of God's ministry because of our agony.

This shows how weak our faith is! Sometimes, we confess that God is good. Jesus is our savior, the living God. However, when we have anxieties, we blame God, "how long should I wait for you?" or, "why me?" If you would feel concerns or worries to wait for God's answer, pay attention to our Lord.

While Peter was speaking about dwellings to stay there on the mountaintop, suddenly a bright cloud overshadowed them, from the cloud a voice said, "This is my son, the beloved; with him, I am well pleased; listen to him!" When the disciples heard God's voice, they fell to the ground and were overcome by fear. However, Jesus came and touched them, saying, "Get up and do not be afraid." When they looked up, everything had disappeared. Only Jesus was there. Jesus wanted his disciples to be active even after he died on the cross. So, he showed them the living God. At the mountaintop, the disciples experienced ecstasy and fear. When they looked at Jesus, "everything had disappeared. Only Jesus was there."

When we blame God at the mountaintop for our worries and pain, God may ask us, "What are you doing here?" When I was at a mountaintop to pray to God, I said, "God, I am waiting for you taking my life away. Otherwise, you should tell me the reason why I should live."

When it became the 25th day of my fast, my siblings came to the mountain to see me. When they saw me, they asked me, "What happened to you? Are you okay without eyeglasses?" I recognized that I did not wear my eyeglasses. I also realized that God was with me even though I was blaming Him all the time. It is enough for me to live with the only reason, that God will always be with me.

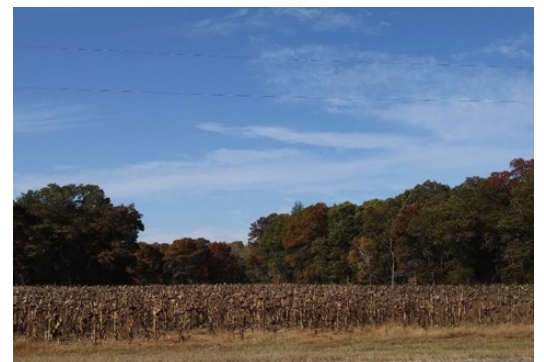

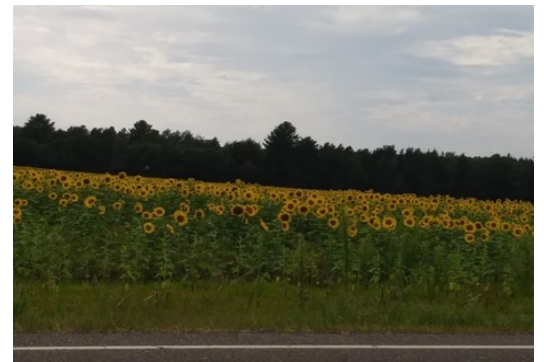

When I was done fasting for 40 days, I felt God say to me again, "how long should I wait for you? Let's go down from the mountain to my people." I found the reason why I should live. That is why God is in me. I did not get any eyeglasses after that because God cured my eyesight. I have overcome my grief of the loss of my mother and came down with my Lord into the world.

However, I lost my American mother a couple weeks ago. I think that the grief of the loss may not be trained. My pain of the loss of my American mother came to me, bringing back my biological mother's loss. On the way to go to my American mother's funeral, it was snowing. It was the first snow this year. It was still in October. I drove for seven hours to see my American mother's funeral and drove back home for nine hours. The way I went back to my ministerial field was much longer than the way I went to see my American mother. On the way toward the church, I saw the field of sunflowers. The sunflowers were gorgeous in summer, but they seem to die. Suddenly, an idea like a flash of light came to my mind, and I could see the sunflowers again. They did not die, but they bear a lot of seeds. "Oh, my God!" I shouted unconsciously.

My biological mother and my American mother, perhaps, did not die but bear many fruits of their faith. Their fruits of faith remain here, my life empowering my ministerial journey. I felt God tell me, "Let's go to the world, where there are many sufferings, anxieties, and agony. However, do not be afraid at all. I will be with you. That is why I send you to the world for my people."

Jesus went to the way of the cross. I will follow Jesus Christ without any fear because God is with me. The living God is in me as if my mothers' fruits dwell in me.

Blessings!
Pastor Jenny

A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

Year-End Giving ~ November 2019

¹²For he delivers the needy when they call, the poor and those who have no helper. ¹³He has pity on the weak and the needy, and saves the lives of the needy. ¹⁴From oppression and violence he redeems their life; and precious is their blood in his sight. (Psalm 72:12-14)

In our charitable giving, we strive to assist our God in aiding the poor and in helping the oppressed. In doing this, we share a mission with other churches and many worthy nonprofits. Now, as the year is nearing its end, we will be receiving from them many appeals for year-end giving. You may be surprised to learn that nearly one-third of annual charitable giving occurs in December.

The Wisconsin United Methodist Foundation urges you to plan your giving and remember the poor and needy during this season of giving thanks and sharing gifts. Your church and local agencies may have a number of opportunities such as giving trees and so forth.

The Wisconsin United Methodist Foundation has a year-end appeal for four charitable targets plus any you choose to designate:

- Wisconsin United Methodist Health and Welfare Programs
- The Scholars Award Program
- UMCOR Disaster Relief
- The Bishop's Relief Fund
- You Own Special Interest (you designate the recipient)

You can find more information about each of these charitable targets and make an online donation at - www.wumf.org/year-end-giving-ideas/. Remember, we can help with stock gifts.

Please prayerfully consider your plans for charitable giving this holiday season

Shelter From the Storm

And when he got into the boat, his disciples followed him. A gale arose on the lake, so great that the boat was being swamped by the waves; but he was asleep. And they went and woke him up, saying, 'Lord, save us! We are perishing!' And he said to them, 'Why are you afraid, you of little faith?' Then he got up and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a dead calm. They were amazed, saying, 'What sort of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?'

Matthew 8:23-27

In the wake of hurricane Dorian and in the midst of hurricane season, stormy seas provide a vivid image and a metaphor for life. Throughout our world, throughout our country, throughout our church, and in our individual lives, storms are raging. Some are physical. Some are actual natural disasters. Some are emotional, some relational, some institutional, and some spiritual. In tempest tossed times it is well to remember we worship a Savior “that even the winds and the sea obey him.”

As physical flood waters recede, I am amazed and impressed by the compassion and generosity of people. Throughout our denomination, people set aside differences and disagreements to rally together in mercy and relief efforts. And not only in the immediate response time. I lift up and celebrate the ongoing and faithful work of ministries such as that at the Winding Rivers UMC under Deborah Burkhalter’s fine leadership, partnering with community, conference Volunteers in Mission, and regional relief organizations to help rebuild and restore community life following fall and spring flooding. Natural disasters have long-term effects, and it is easy to think the need passes as quickly as the event.

As president of the General Board of Global Ministries, and my time in leadership with UMCOR, I am privileged to see our efforts at a global level. I can hardly express the appreciation and gratitude I feel for United Methodists all around the world. Where needs are great, The United Methodist Church responds – in every place, at every time, facing every challenge. Be proud of the mission and disaster response of our church.

In our own Wisconsin Conference, we owe a large debt of gratitude to Bud Budzinski and Lynnette Jordan for their exceptional leadership in disaster response. To our VIM and IVIM (Volunteers/ International Volunteers in Mission) we owe our thanks. In every church and every district, we have relief efforts and response teams offering faithful Christian service in the face of disaster. This is our church at its very best!

Some may say that we would respond regardless of whether we were Christians or not. On an individual basis, that might be true from time to time, but it is a source of pride and commitment in Wisconsin to serve those in greatest need. I am inspired by the level of dedication to being Christ's hands and feet, heart and voice to our communities.

There are two significant ways that we all can support the ongoing efforts of our United Methodist Church as it continues to engage in mercy and restoration work. First, pray. Do not discount the power and effectiveness of prayer. Pray for victims and responders. Pray for communities and governments. Pray for relief efforts and resources. Pray for healing and restoration. And, please, don't stop praying. Many people need prayers six months after a disaster as much as, if not more than, they needed it immediately following tragedy.

Second, support UMCOR, our Advances and Advance specials, and our Special Sundays – particularly World Communion Sunday (which supports the education, training, and support of the leaders we will need to continue to be faithful into the future). Our mission giving is a key element to our discipleship that transforms the world.

We are a generous people in Wisconsin. It is sometimes so easy to be distracted by the thunder and lightning crashing all around us, causing us to forget – Jesus is in the boat with us. And as long as this is true, we truly have nothing to fear.

Grace and Peace,

Bishop Hee-Soo Jung
