A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

Light as the End of the Tunnel ~ June 2021

Psalm 118:24

"This is the day that the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it." Where and when do you stop and celebrate? How do you "rejoice and be glad" in the day the "Lord has made?"

Today I stop to rejoice in the rain that is coming down, that we very much need. I celebrate the sun from this weekend that brought so many smiles. I rejoice in all of our churches who have and are continuing to do ministry despite the difficulties of the times. I celebrate the faithfulness of our congregations to continue to give of their time, talents, and treasures.

How are you celebrating God's continued blessings in your lives? What is your response going to be? How are you going to give to others because God has given to you?

We are so blessed. So, we are called to be a blessing to others. Volunteer in ways you feel comfortable. Attend church, in whatever format you wish. Donate to your church, other nonprofits, and causes close to your heart. Pray. Always Pray.

Celebrate! Because "This is the day that the Lord has made."

"The Gift of God"

⁸ For by grace you have been saved through faith, and this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God— ⁹ not the result of works, so that no one may boast. ¹⁰ For we are what he has made us, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand to be our way of life. (Ephesians 2:8-10)

A few days ago, I got sick. I wasn't able to go to the church and work my regular office hours because my stomach was upset. I usually get up early and read some bible verses, watch the news, and pray for the day before going to the church. But on that day, while I was reading a bible verse, I had a headache and didn't feel good. I took a painkiller. But, it made my stomach more upset. I felt nauseous with a severe headache. I decided not to go to the church that day and stay home and rest. I sent the church leaders at Grantsburg a text that I wouldn't be going to church. And, I rested the entire day. It was the first time I couldn't keep my regular schedule due to illness since I came to Upper St. Croix parish. During the COVID-19 pandemic, even though I was busier than ever, I never got sick. I was happy that we could see one another in person. So, what happened to me?

Through the COVID-19 pandemic, we have experienced the new paradigm of participating in the church through new technologies such as Zoom live services, Facebook live services, YouTube services, and Drive-In services. These are the methods that we tried to stay connected and to care for one another because we couldn't gather in one place and couldn't gather in person due to COVID-19. We are grateful for these new technologies that kept us connected, even during challenging times. Uncertain of the future, we kept praying and kept in touch with one another through these new technologies.

Finally, we are overcoming the COVID-19 pandemic and reopening our church. And now, we gather together again. However, perhaps, we are coming back with a wounded body and mind. I mean that we may be wounded spiritually, emotionally, and physically in many ways because of the pandemic. Some of us lost beloved ones; some of us lost jobs, shelters, friends, and we might lose some of our church family members as some of them may not come back to the church. We also feel the effects of long-term isolation; some of us suffered from depression, anxiety, addiction, sadness, loneliness, or low self-esteem. We are coming back to the church, but I would like to check if we are really okay. "Are you really okay?"

When I first learned English, I was taught to memorize many sentences for English conversation. For example, when we meet people, we may greet each other by saying: "Hi. How are you?" Then, in reply saying, "I'm fine, and you?" Because we just memorized the sentences, we don't know the other person's answers for the greeting, "How are you?" There's a humorous saying; even though I fell, got wounded and was bleeding, I might still answer, "I'm fine, and you?" I would suggest you check with yourself to see if you really are fine and check with your loved ones to see if they really are fine as well.

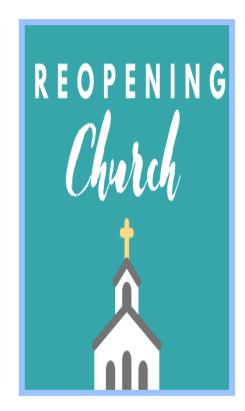

When we reopened the church, we greeted each other with smiling faces, "How have you been?" Some said, "I've been fine. See, I'm here." Due to the pandemic it's been a long time since we've seen each other. At least we know those who showed up at church are okay. We are happy to see one another in person. We are so glad that we could gather together in one place. Perhaps, it is time to check on one another with the caring love of God to see if they are fine, especially those who are not able to come to church yet.

We are Christians which means Christ's followers. The Apostle Paul says, "For by grace you have been saved through faith, and this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God" (Ephesians 2:8). As God's gift, we are saved in faith by grace. No one can boast about whether we are Christians, but we have to think of God's gift, faith. The reason God gave us the gift of God, salvation in faith, is for good works. We are saved by grace, not by our own work. Those who received a gift cannot judge others who don't. When we receive a gift, we are happy and want to share the joy. Like this, our gift of God has the purpose of sharing joy with others.

In reopening the church, let us think about what the "good works" are. Paul says, "For through him [Jesus] both of us have access in one Spirit to the Father [God]" (Ephesians 2:18). "Both of us" means Christians who are in different opinions (Ephesians 2:11-13). It is time to embrace one another in Jesus Christ. It is time to care for the wounds of one another. Even though the wounds are not visible, most of us are wounded for many reasons, such as hearing different opinions in faith, disappointing others, leaving members, etc. Let us respect different voices. Let us embrace one another and walk together toward one Spirit to God. Life is short, but we have many things to do in Jesus Christ. Praise God rather than blame others. That's the way we use the gift of God well. Blessings! Pastor Jenny

Prejudice and Bias Hurt Us All

But wanting to justify himself, he asked Jesus, 'And who is my neighbor?' (Luke 10:29)

This year marks the 150th anniversary of one of the most horrendous terrorist acts in the history of the United States. On October 24, 1871 over 500 residents of Los Angeles stormed into the Chinese quarter, beating, stabbing, and shooting Chinese immigrants – some second and third generation whose families had been on this continent even before California became a state in 1849 – burning their homes and businesses, lynching, killing and mangling 19, injuring dozens more, sending shock and fear throughout the Chinatown of about 200 residents. Some of the reasons that attackers gave for their terrorism? "They smell funny." "They talk funny." "They look at our women." "They bow to us when we pass them." "We don't trust them."

I would love to write today to celebrate the progress we have made, but then I reflect on the recent shootings in Atlanta, where six Asian women were killed. In the United States, an average of 3,800 acts of aggression against Asian Americans occur each month. However, in March of this year that number jumped to over 6,600. The primary excuse given: the Chinese sent the coronavirus to the world. Now, it is important to note that of the 6,600+ acts of aggression and hate, only about 1,900 of those were against Chinese or Chinese Americans; the rest were against people of other Asian nationalities and ethnicities. And it is important to note that two-thirds of the victims are United States citizens. These acts of violence were not acts of reason or sensible thought; these acts are signs of deep and abiding racism, prejudice, and ignorance.

In my own life journey, I have been on the receiving end of many hurtful and hateful attacks. Mostly these are unkind words or insults, but some have been threats of violence and acts of aggressive bullying. It is less now as a Bishop where I am known, but still I see people watch me and I am often the person who has to extend a hand of greeting and friendship to strangers. I have been here decades, and sometimes I still feel that others think I do not belong.

It is obvious that such prejudice and violence hurts the victims and perpetuates racial and ethnic division, but what is too often overlooked is that such incidents do collateral damage to the attackers, to the community, and to the world at large. Prejudice and bias hurt us all. Racially motivated aggressive acts perpetuate stereotypes and focus attention on the negatives of diversity. In a "blame the victim" culture, research shows that a significant portion of the dominant white culture wonder what the victims did to "deserve" what happened to them. Any acts of defense or retaliation are often framed as behavior justifying the assault or attack. In many ways, victims are injured twice – once by the act itself, then by the insult that they deserved what occurred.

It is my honor to speak on May 20th to the Baraboo Talks initiative on Anti-Asian Racism and Xenophobia. Raising awareness and creating understanding is one way we can stand up for the rights and dignity of our Asian sisters and brothers. It is critically important for Christians to oppose racism in all its forms, but more importantly to stand up for the human rights of all people. While it is important to be against that which is evil, it is critical that we fight for all that is good and right and just.

Things we can do to work together to create merciful, compassionate, kind and justice-based beloved community in addition to education and awareness raising are:

First and foremost, pray. If we pray for radical inclusion and racial justice, it will become more than a nice idea; it will become a part of who we are and what we are passionate about. I have seen it time after time; when we become prayer crusaders, it results in changed behavior and beliefs. Pray, and pray hard, for racial justice and beloved community where everyone belongs.

Second, speak out. The state of Wisconsin has some very clear and direct laws against hate crimes, but they are often ignored. Read your local news – you will be surprised at the number of racially related incidents right in your own community. Write letters to encourage local law enforcement to take hate crimes seriously; write to your congressional leaders, to your chamber of commerce, to your school boards (an incredible amount of racially motivated assault, aggression, and bullying is occurring across the country in our schools); and municipal councils.

Third, organize some community events celebrating diversity and multi-ethnic richness. Offer world music performances, international food feasts, mission fairs, inter-cultural block parties, and films from various cultures and global perspectives.

Fourth, participate in peaceful anti-racism rallies, protests, and demonstrations. Oppose any and all acts of violence – vandalism, property damage, looting, violence against law enforcement – that simply perpetuate ill will and anger based in race relations. Our call and primary task is to be peacemakers. Our Christian United Methodist witness is social justice grounded in mercy, compassion, caring, reconciliation, unity, love, and peace. We have an opportunity to model a different way to deal with injustice.

There are many other things we can do, but I offer you a simple, challenging invitation: extend a hand of fellowship and grace to members of other races, cultures, nationalities, and languages. Make an effort to tear down the dividing walls between "us" and "them." Make a commitment to love those most different from yourself. Be filled by God's Holy Spirit with the knowledge and truth that God is love, and share that love with everyone – white, black, bronze, brown, beige, amber, caramel, ruddy, or pink! Together, we can undo the harm and hurt done by prejudice, bias, aggression, and racial violence, but only if we will commit together to make it so. Let us faithfully commit. Thanks be to God.

GRANTSBURG: MISSIONS & MEETINGS & MISC.

The UMW met on May 12. After our regular business meeting Barb Loomis treated us to a Korean facial which she had purchased on her trip to Korea. We were surprised with a belated Mothers Day flower given to us by Valetta Walton's son and wife. They are members of a large Methodist Church in California. The ladies of the church are called the "Ladies of the Lord". Our June16th meeting will be held at Terry Giles home at 1:00 pm. We will have a short meeting and then set up the vintage items we will be selling for our church at Terry and Mike's sale on June 17-19.

No In-Person Backpack Fundraiser means we need YOU to Help Feed Hungry Kids

Did you know there are hundreds of families living in our community today that are struggling to provide food for their children? This basic necessity has been a struggle in many of our neighbors' homes. The Salvation Army, for many years, has met this need with a program that helps families who struggle by providing a backpack full of food for the weekends when their child is not benefiting from a free or reduced lunch at school. In the 2020-2021 school year, the local Salvation Army Backpack program supported nearly 300 families each and every week by providing a backpack full of food on the weekends to families who live right here in Polk County. Our backpacks did not stop during school closures due to COVID-19, and in some instances the number of families needing a backpack increased. In uncertain times, we continue to serve our families. We want to make sure that no matter where a child begins Monday morning, whether in the classroom or virtually, they have food to eat in their cupboards and are ready to start their week, ready to learn. Each backpack costs approximately $7 to fill. This year, our annual backpack fundraiser is cancelled due to COVID-19 safety precautions. Despite not being able to host an event, we are hoping that you would consider donating to help us feed hungry kids. We will be running a virtual fundraiser through the month of June 2021. We are hoping you will prayerfully consider a donation to this important Polk County program. This is a vital and necessary food resource and your financial help is needed. In years past, we have raised close to $30,000 at our annual event. We need your help to meet the need. If you would like to mail a backpack donation in today, you can do so by writing a check and sending it to:
