A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

Connecting Vision and Generosity
September 2021

Ask, and it will be given you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened for you. For everyone who asks receives, and everyone who searches finds, and for everyone who knocks, the door will be opened.

Matthew 7:7-8

After serving my first local church part-time as a college student for two years, I had just finished leading my last worship service and was greeting folks at the door. One gentleman shook my hand and said, "Jason, thank you for being our pastor. I think one of the things I liked about you the most is that you never talked about money."

I've thought about his statement many times over the years. I've also heard the same sentiment repeated by both laity and clergy in many ways. We tend to see financial stewardship and money as a "necessary evil." It's something we must deal with to get to real ministry.

In his short book, A Spirituality of Fundraising, Henri Nouwen challenges this view of money and stewardship (which he calls fundraising). He writes: Fundraising is, first and foremost, a form of ministry. It is a way of announcing our vision and inviting other people into our mission. Fundraising is proclaiming what we believe in such a way that we offer other people an opportunity to participate with us in our vision and mission. We are declaring, 'We have a vision that is amazing and exciting. We are inviting you to invest yourself through the resources that God has given you - your energy, your prayers, and your money - in this work to which God has called us.'

I wonder what vision God has entrusted to you and your congregation that you can invite others to be a part of through their prayers, their presence, their service, their witness, and their gifts.

Pastor Jenny Lee, Ph.D.

“It is My Life, Not a Job”

“The Word became flesh and lived among us, and we have seen his glory, the glory as of a father’s only Son, full of grace and truth.” (John 1:14)

What is your name? Where are you from? How long have you been here? These questions are what most people asked me when I met them for the first time. However, recently I had people say, “Hi Jenny, how are you?” It had happened at the store, on the street, and even at the Library or Community Center. Especially when I come to the Convention Center in Grantsburg and the Community Center in Webster, I hear people’s welcoming voices, saying, “Hi Jenny, how are you?” instead of the questions I used to get. I feel like I am now settled in this community, and I am a Wisconsinite.

I’ve been here two years. Technically, I’ve been here for two years and twenty-four days. I cannot believe that I’ve been here for more than two years already. Since I was appointed to this parish in August of 2019, I lost my American mom in October of 2019. In the grief of the loss of my mom, I began my ministry in Wisconsin. Before I knew about our congregation and parish, the COVID 19 pandemic hit our area and all over the world. We closed our churches. I indeed felt isolated in Wisconsin. However, the COVID 19 pandemic made me busy figuring out a new way of ministry. I tried to keep a connection with others in our parish because not only did I feel isolated, but all of us felt the same. Getting busy somehow helped me to forget the isolation and loneliness. During the pandemic, working on my garden helped me not to get homesick as well. Gardening refreshes me and meditates my soul and mind. Gardening sometimes gives me the wisdom of ministry as well as makes me familiar with this community.

Meanwhile, I have joined a ping-pong group in Webster, and I play ping-pong once a week with them. It is an activity and exercise I do in my leisure time to hang out with those in the community. The people are like my new friends. I also joined the Rotary Club in Grantsburg, and I meet the Rotarians once a week. Rotary Club helps me to know about community life. While I meet people in the community, I can listen to them and learn about what’s going on in our community. Finally, I have moved into this community emotionally and mindfully, not just physically. I have met the people of Jesus in our community, who gave me a warm smile and encouragement, and I have met neighbors who made me feel passionate to help them build a good relationship with God. For example, I am moving into our community deeply with my whole mind and heart. It is my way to live as a Wisconsinite beyond a pastor of the Upper St. Croix Parish. I enjoy my life and my ministry in this community, meeting the people of Jesus and my neighbors. Meanwhile, it seemed the pandemic had passed over, and we could reopen our churches and enjoy seeing each other again.

However, before people come back to the church, we recently heard that our community is in the red zone of the Delta Variant Virus. The Wisconsin Conference of the United Methodist Church recommends wearing facemasks inside the churches, keeping social distances. We are afraid of reclosing our churches. We are also fearful of what our future church looks like. Many members didn’t come back to the church. What will happen in the world? What will happen in the Methodist Church? We don’t know about tomorrow and what the future holds. We just live day by day. However, we know one thing and that is that God is with us. The Gospel of John says, “The Word became flesh and lived among us.” Yes, it means Jesus Christ. As God created all things by His Word, God’s Word is powerful. The Word came to us as Jesus Christ and showed us how much God loves us through Jesus’ ministry, death, and resurrection. Even though Jesus lifted up heaven, we believe in his Last Words, “Remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age” (Matthew 28:20b).

We believe in His promise that he will be with us to the end of the ages. As our faith ancestors overcame severe persecution and disaster to keep their faith, I trust that we can overcome the challenges, difficulties, and dangers we might face because God is with us. Many rumors make people leave the church. Looking at the people who left the church hurt us emotionally and spiritually. I am also hurt when I can't help people. Whenever I face difficulties in my ministry, I ask myself, "Is this the job for you? Or, is it your way of life?" If I say, "it is my job," it is easy to avoid the difficulties. However, if I say, "it is my way of life," I have to live out through the difficulties. I will live through the difficulties I might face in my ministry because it is my life. I encourage you to go together. We can go through all challenges because God is with us. I am more excited than fearful of how God works for us. Let us expect God's wonderful work for us rather than have fear in what the future brings. God is with us!

Blessings!

GRANTSBURG: CENTRAL NEWS

Central UMC is holding church services at 8:30 am on Sundays. We are looking for volunteers to help out at each service. Sign up sheets are available at the church. We appreciate your willingness to help out!

Most all of us are vaccinated, but we respect everyone whether masks are on or off. As we are still living with the Coronavirus we are encouraging people to avoid hugging or shaking hands with each other.

We welcome everyone to join us for Coffee Fellowship after service each Sunday. Please be safe.

My Beloved Wisconsin Siblings in Christ,

I greet you in the hope that is ours in Jesus Christ, and I would begin with gratitude for the faithfulness and witness of your discipleship during the pandemic. I write today concerned about grounding our Christian practice as the Delta Variant has become the predominant strain in Wisconsin.

We cannot eliminate risk in our life together, but we can be wise and bear witness to Jesus by what we place in the center. Psalm 84 begins, “how lovely is your dwelling place, O Lord of hosts!”. The temple is considered lovely in verse three because, “even the sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest for herself where she may lay her young.” The temple and temple community are lovely because they have made room for the sparrow who looks for protection.

Consider, dear Siblings, that with the Delta Variant we are seeing increased transmissibility and impact on the unvaccinated, as well as breakthrough cases for the vaccinated. We are experiencing turnover in clergy leadership from stress. Children are unable to be vaccinated. Many have compromised immune systems and our health care professionals are under great strain. In such a time as this, might we train our eyes on ways we make room for the vulnerable? How might we be children of a God whose eye is on the sparrow?

In January of this year, I asked you to consider the accountability and practice of three simple rules for United Methodists in Wisconsin: be cautious, be gracious, and be flexible.

I thank God for our Coronavirus Task Force. Their Q & A is below. Please read it prayerfully. Leaders, these are important days for spiritual leadership. Thank you for every way you walk the moral high ground, and every time you humbly surrender your personal preferences to benefit the mission of Jesus. How lovely is the temple where the sparrow finds a home.

Know that I am praying for you.

In Christ’s love, Bishop Hee-Soo Jung

Covid- 19 FAQ Sheet – Updated August 16, 2021

Due to the changing nature of Covid-19 and the Delta Variant, the Covid Task Team has summarized some commonly asked questions and new guidelines.

We live in a precarious time where a mix of vaccinated and unvaccinated persons create a high risk of a COVID strain developing that is resistant to all vaccines, which means the pandemic could start all over again with another year or more of not being able to gather as a congregation. This adds to the urgency to get more people vaccinated.

What is the current Centers for Disease Control (CDC) mask guideline?

As of July 27, 2021, the CDC states that those fully vaccinated can “participate in many of the activities that you did before the pandemic”, unless there are local rules that require a different mandate.

Masks are not required for those fully vaccinated if you live in an area of Low or Moderate Covid-19 transmission.

In areas with Substantial or High transmission, the CDC recommends masks be worn in indoor, public places regardless of vaccination status.

Currently, most of Wisconsin is in the High category. Therefore the Conference strongly urges people to wear a mask indoors regardless of vaccination status. Please be sure to follow your local county guidelines if different from the current CDC guidelines.

Here is a visual map showing the transmission level for each county in Wisconsin.
