A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

*Helping God's Kingdom Come About
November 2021*

Sometimes a great quote sticks with you, rings true, and really makes you look at something in a new way. Stores like Hobby Lobby seem to have based a large part of their business models on the fact that we love having great quotes hanging in our homes. As we approach Thanksgiving, I hope you find these giving quotes inspiring.

"Make all you can, save all you can, give all you can." ~John Wesley

"He who obtains has little. He who scatters has much." ~Lao-Tzu

"No person was ever honored for what he received. He was honored for what he gave." ~Calvin Coolidge

"It is possible to give without loving, but it is impossible to love without giving."
~Richard Braunstein

"You can't have a perfect day without doing something for someone who'll never be able to repay you." ~John Wooden

"You can have everything in life that you want if you will just help enough other people get what they want" ~Zig Ziglar

"Remember this - you can't serve God and Money, but you can serve God with money." ~Selwyn Hughes

"I judge all things only by the price they shall gain in eternity." ~John Wesley

"It is more blessed to give than receive." ~Jesus, Acts 20:35

Take a Moment to Pause!

“Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances;
for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you.”

(1 Thessalonians 5:16-18)

A few days ago, I was in the office. As usual, I called some people, wrote cards, and prayed for our parishioners touching on each pew in the sanctuary. After I was done with my prayers in the sanctuary, I walked down the hallway. I saw brilliant sunshine coming in through the stained glass. I looked outside through the window. Bright sunlight is illuminating on the colorful leaves of fall. I was attracted by it and went out of the office and started walking on the street enjoying the soft wind, sunshine and the beautiful leaves. “Wow!” suddenly, I praised it unknowingly, “Wow, so beautiful!” I walked through the town and, along with the lake, enjoyed the beautiful weather. Suddenly, three words came to my mind, “joy, gratitude, and prayer.” Perhaps, “joy and gratitude” come with “prayer.” Without prayer, we may not know about true joy and gratitude.

The Apostle Paul often used “prayer and thanksgiving” together in his letter: “Pray without ceasing and give thanks in all circumstances.” (1 Thessalonians 5:17-18): “Devote yourselves to prayer, keeping alert in it with thanksgiving.” (Colossians 4:2): “Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God.” (Philippians 3:6).

In fact, we pray when we face difficulties, like when we have urgent issues, stopping by the emergency room or the pharmacy in order to get an immediate solution. So, praying without ceasing or giving thanks in all circumstances sounds like the story of saints. However, if we can find joy in everyday life, we can give thanks also. And then, with gratitude, we may pray every moment we breathe. It is like a prayer walk, which is praying every moment we are walking.

I want to share how a prayer walk works. I have shared it with a prayer group in St. Croix Falls. It is an easy way we can practice praying. A prayer walk is pretty simple, bringing together two wonderful things, “walking and praying” and enjoying the beautiful weather and maple leaves. I know some of you enjoy taking a walk with someone or walking alone in the morning or evening. A prayer walk is just being intentional about both exercising and your prayer time so that you can cover your community in prayer. As you pass by, while you are taking a walk, you may pray for those who are living in the place you are passing, whether you know them well or not. For many, a prayer walk is as simple as grabbing the leash and taking your dogs for a walk, or putting the kiddos in a stroller and praying for each family living in the house you pass, or government/county/town buildings to lift up our leaders. How you implement a prayer walk and what it looks like is really up to you. The most important part is that you are praying.

It is the season of thanksgiving. Let us pause from our busy daily lives and think of how often we give thanks to our family, our teachers, parents, leaders, and our Lord. Looking at beautiful maple leaves, let us give thanks to God and everyone around you. Walking on the street with a pet, let us pray for them with gratitude and joy. Blessings!

COMMUNION SUNDAY: 11/7/21

St. Croix Falls
Admin Council Meeting

November 18th
4:00 pm via Zoom

October is National Clergy Appreciation Month

Siblings in Christ,

We know that God was in Christ, reconciling the world, and that relationship is the essence of transformation. We are changed by offering gifts in ways that serve each other. I am grateful for the gifted laity who lead and serve, and the dance of shared mission we discover when we deploy gifts in relationship with communities.

I write to thank you, clergy. Local Pastors, Deacons, Elders, and to you who may be spiritual leaders not yet with clergy credentials—but on the journey—thank you for your ministry!

God creates by speaking a new reality into being. God said, ‘let there be light,’ and there was light. Clergy, our words articulate God’s newness in creation. We reset blessing in creation when we pronounce a benediction and say, ‘may the Lord bless you and keep you.’ We re-establish God’s newness when we say, ‘in the name of Jesus Christ you are forgiven.’ We pronounce something irrevocable when you, say, ‘I baptize you...’ These are not just words, but language that paints God’s possibilities over the worn-through grain of the world. The church is a language community establishing God’s relentless solidarity and interdependent good in a world that asserts self-interest as the way of the world. October is clergy appreciation month. I hope, Siblings in Christ, you will join me in offering signs of genuine appreciation and thanksgiving to clergy.

I want you to know that clergy are paying the price of a politicized pandemic. They are exposing themselves to the harm of those who refuse to mask for their neighbor. They are trying to raise the level of maturity in Christian community so that Christ would be made known in our witness. They proclaim the Oneness of Christ in a world where powerful forces seek to divide us.

According to the Lewis Center for Church Leadership, nationally, young elders, those age 35 or younger, declined again in 2021 to 721—lower than the previous low of 852. There is a decline of young deacons since 2019 by 23%. 38% of Wisconsin clergy appointed to churches have been in their appointment three years or less—and they are trying to build pastoral relationships across a pandemic and via electronic means of communication.

Our clergy recruitment is international, bringing highly educated and gifted candidates from around the planet to serve and supply congregations in Wisconsin, and we know cross-cultural and cross-racial appointments clearly express the oneness of Christ. That said, they require deep commitment from both laity and clergy for us to make world-transforming disciples of Jesus. Every pastor and every congregation have a cultural heritage. Where deep sharing takes place the governance of God’s Spirit is made known. Thank you for choosing to make Christ known.

Ministry has always been hard enough to require both lay and clergy to rely on God and disorienting enough for us to take God’s hand whenever it comes. I offer ten concrete ways to show appreciation for your clergy person.

- 1. Pray for your clergy persons. Deeply, earnestly, and honestly pray for their ministry.
- 2. Advocate for an increase in compensation and work to improve your congregation’s financial stewardship.
- 3. Serve. Teach. Organize. Your service leads by example and blesses the body.
- 4. Hold accountable gossip and complaining that does not address people directly.
- 5. Visit someone who is grieving or sick or shut-in on behalf of the community of faith.
- 6. Speak well of your pastor in the church and community.
- 7. Reflect back to your clergy something specific that you appreciated about her or his ministry.
- 8. Attend classes that your clergy person offers. Support them with your presence.
- 9. Help others in your congregation respect the clergyperson’s Sabbath day.
- 10. Make sure your clergy person takes regular times of vacation and gets away for continuing education.

Siblings, what you pay attention to grows. Pay attention to stewardship or mission or service—and they grow. Pay attention to the office of pastor or deacon and its value and impact will only increase—as will the people in that office. Thank you, each of you, for your ministry.

Know that I am praying for you.
In the hope that Christ offers us,
Bishop Hee-Soo Jung

Prayer Group & Craft Group Updates

As you may know, the prayer group continues gathering every Sunday in St. Croix Falls after the Sunday service. We will continue to do so for a while, if you want to join us we welcome you.

The Craft Group gatherings were delayed due to COVID 19 and we haven't started meeting in person yet. But, we'd like our crafters to consider starting with "Prayer Shawls." Even though we cannot gather together right now, we may start making "prayer shawls" individually and donating them or you can make it for your loved ones who need prayers and care.

Here is a photo of the "Prayer shawls" in Grantsburg. Grantsburg's UMW (Women's group) agreed that we can extend this project to our parish's Craft Group. If you have any ideas regarding the prayer shawl project and Craft Group's future projects, let us know in order to go forth together.

Thank you very much for your commitment and passion for ministry! Blessings to you all. Pastor Jenny
