A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

A Matter of Perspective
July 2022

Some things are simply a matter of perspective. We can be reminded often how words can be used to skew the truth. For instance, an interoffice softball game was held every year between the marketing department and support staff of one company. The day of the game, as hard as the marketers tried, the support staff whipped the marketing department soundly.

In its best tradition, the marketing department decided to find the best "spin" they could on the dismal result. They showed how they earn their keep by posting this memo on the bulletin board after the game: "The marketing department is pleased to announce that for the recently completed softball season, we came in second place, having lost but one game all year. The support department, however, had a rather dismal season, as they won only one game all year."

On the other hand, hidden beauty can also be found by looking at a situation in a different way. A little girl named Lauren (age 5) reports, "I know my older sister loves me because she gives me all her old clothes and has to go out and buy new ones."

I think Lauren is on to something. Our entire lives can be shaped by perspective. How would I approach money, "stuff," and giving if I knew that God had already given me everything I need, rather than seeing all of the things I "need" in the store windows? How would I treat others if I focused on the ways I could serve, rather than making sure everyone respected my rights? How would my marriage change if it were based on being one another's servant rather than a struggle for power? What would my attitude be toward work be if I saw it as my God-given vocation rather than someplace I had to go to earn a paycheck? What if I saw Sunday as a true Sabbath . . . a time for connecting with God and family and rest . . . rather than a day to run the kids to more activities and the last day I have to get things done at home before I go to work?

Sometimes we need God to help us see the world differently before we can live differently in it.

“Giving it Up is Not Giving it Up.”

*“No one can serve two masters, for a slave will either hate the one and love the other or be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and wealth”
(Matthew 6:24)*

A few months ago, I had considerable trouble because of my weight gain. My weight has never been an issue in my entire life. It caused me a lot of trouble. My weight has rarely ever changed, but since I moved to Wisconsin, I have been gaining weight without being aware. I know you may be suspicious thinking, ‘what is she talking about?’ Yeah, someone might think, ‘this is a joke-she is still tiny.’ That might be the case, and ok, when compared it others. But, it is I who cannot be compared with others.

I thought at first that I needed to gain a little more weight for good health. A friend of mine who saw my pictures on my Facebook said, “You look like you’re gaining weight, which means you look good. You must be satisfied with your life and happy in your ministry.” I said, “Yes, it is true. I am satisfied and happy in my ministry.” However, the trouble began with my back pain. When I woke up every morning, I had back pain, But I overlooked the reason. I thought it might be caused by my chair, which I have used for more than five years. I changed my chair. But, my pain was still there. Later, I thought my bed was causing it. And I changed my bed position. But, my back pain lasted for a few weeks. One day, I suddenly remembered that my doctor told me, “You shouldn’t gain weight it’s bad for your back. Since you had surgery on your back, your back becomes weak if you gain weight.”

The other problem was that most of my clothes no longer fit me. But I didn’t get a chance to shop for new clothes. Finally, I went shopping for new clothes while I was on vacation. I felt great about buying them because I rarely buy new clothes. Usually, I got my clothes from Thrift stores or my friends, and most of them were from my country, meaning I kept them for more than 15 years because my weight didn’t change. When I returned home from my vacation, I brought one of my friends to my place. She has wanted to visit my house since I came to Wisconsin. But, she couldn’t visit me due to the Pandemic.

One day, when I organized my closet with my new clothes and my friend looked at my closet, which was full of clothes and she said, “Wow, you have a lot of clothes. Why did you buy new clothes?” I said, “Because I gained weight, most of them didn’t fit me any longer.” She said, “Well, why don’t you take them away in order to make space for new clothes?” I said, “But they have precious meanings to me, such as friends’ good gifts or memories of my country.” She smiled at me and said, “I know what you mean. But, taking them away doesn’t mean you are taking your memories or friendships away. Taking them away makes space for taking new things in. My husband and I take our old things away to Goodwill or the Salvation Army before getting new things in. I thought it was a better to send my old stuff to people in need than keep them in my closet. Just think about it and try to do it. It might help you refresh your mind and your body. If you decide to donate them, take a picture of what and how much you are donating and take them away.” Her words remained on my mind long after she went home.

Finally, I took my old clothes out and filled my closet with my new clothes. I sent my old clothes to the church's rummage sale. I realized what she meant after I took my old clothes away. It didn't mean "throwing away good memories or friends' love away," but "making it extend to others."

I have experienced a 'simple life' through this practice. I thought 'simple life' was to give up something, such as greed or desire, to train for self-control. However, you may start a 'simple life' with tiny things in everyday life, such as reorganizing your closet, kitchen, storage, or bookshelf. If you find the things you haven't touched or used for a long time, they can be given to others. As long as you see empty spaces in your closet, storage, kitchen, or bookshelf, you may feel your mind extending into the kingdom of God. Taking old things away is to prepare for filling them with new things. Giving it up is not giving it up, but giving you up to God in heaven. I hope that you may experience it this summer. Your summer will be more fantastic than any year's summer.

Blessings,

Pastor Jenny

GRANTSBURG: CENTRAL NEWS

Central UMC is holding church services with a Zoom service at 8:30 am on Sundays. We are looking for volunteers to help out at each service. Sign up sheets are available at the church. We appreciate your willingness to help out!

Most all of us are vaccinated, but we respect everyone whether masks are on or off. As we are still living with the Coronavirus we are encouraging people to avoid hugging or shaking hands with each other.

We welcome everyone to join us for Coffee Fellowship after service each Sunday. Please be safe.

CELEBRATION OF LIFE

July 23, 2022

Please stop by when you are able, to join for a time of visiting with friends and family, as we remember Alan on July 23rd, from 1 p.m to 4 p.m. at Crex Meadows Wildlife Area in Grantsburg, Wisc.

Several UMW ladies met on June 8th at the Fire it Up Bistro and enjoyed a delicious lunch. We were lucky to get Mark Harmon, the owner, as our server. His wife, Marivel, and daughter, Venessa, prepared the meal. It was delicious!

Our next meeting will be on July 13th when we will celebrate all of our birthdays. This has become an annual event. Come and join us at 1:00 pm.

Please bring an exchange gift of no more than $8.00. Call Mary McNally 715 791 8010 for reservations by Tuesday July 12th.

Hope to see you at the party!

JUNETEENTH DAY

'Carry each other's burdens and so you will fulfill the law of Christ.' Gal. 6.2

"The people of Texas are informed that, in accordance with a proclamation from the Executive of the United States, all slaves are free. This involves an absolute equality of personal rights and rights of property between former masters and slaves, and the connection heretofore existing between them becomes that between employer and hired labor. The freedmen are advised to remain quietly at their present homes and work for wages. They are informed that they will not be allowed to collect at military posts and that they will not be supported in idleness either there or elsewhere." —General Orders, Number 3; Headquarters District of Texas, Galveston, June 19, 1865.

When Maj. Gen. Gordon Granger issued Order Number 3, he had no idea that, in establishing the Union Army's authority over the people of Texas, he was also establishing the basis for our holiday, "Juneteenth" ("June" plus "nineteenth"), marked for the first time today as a federal holiday. While we celebrate when the last slaves were learning of their emancipation, racial justice has not yet reached everyone in the United States. We commemorate Juneteenth, but we also remember the spirit of the order's intent to liberate is not yet fulfilled.

In our house, the United Methodist Church, since Richard Allen, Black Methodism has always been grounded in a renewal movement to embody all-inclusive divine good. Relationship with our past and with African American United Methodists, especially, offer the whole church opportunity for a deeper discipleship than other ecclesial bodies that may not be global in nature. We know relationship is the vehicle for transformation. The United Methodist Church is blessed by relationships that hold us in spaces of cultural humility and accountability.

It was a gift to have the annual conference opening service of worship a time to share a dialogue sermon with Rev. Dr. Grace Cajuat. That moment held openness, listening to the Spirit and each other, as well as listening to what the moment itself needed to make Christ known. I pray the text spoke to the assertion there is bread enough for all at God's table.

As followers of Jesus, we have an Other-first discipleship. We are changed by relationship with Jesus, and any Other, always in a formative relationship with the Other. Other-first thinking takes us off our pedestals and out of our self-oriented mindsets because the relationship with Jesus--and any stranger at the door who represents Jesus—is formative.

I would prayerfully ask us to commemorate Juneteenth as a national holiday that has a moral warrant to be more than a long weekend. Juneteenth Day gives us a shared image and language to motivate us to do the long work of radical inclusion and racial justice in our church and world. May it be so.

Know that I am praying for you, and when you see this, I will be on my renewal leave—please pray for my renewal. Thank you.

Peace,

Pet Safety Tips

More pets get lost on July 4th than any other day of the year.

Make sure that collars, tags, and microchip ID are all up to date.

Keep your pets away from dangerous party foods like raisins, chocolate, and onions.

Turning on the radio or TV can muffle the sound of fireworks.

Never leave party supplies unattended where pets can get into them. Keep charcoal, lighter fluid, and matches in a safe place.

Have a happy and safe
4th of July!

MINISTRY TABLETS AVAILABLE

Just a reminder we have ministry tablets available for all churches to use for their members, please let Pastor Jenny know if you would like to use one. Our experiences are that users really appreciate them, they are able to hear and see other members during the service. -Karen Sciacca

THANK YOU to everyone who attended the Joint Service at St Croix Falls it was a joy to be together. We look forward to the next joint service!

Fireworks Safety

STAY SAFE

As always, this most American of holidays will be marked by parades, fireworks and backyard barbecues across the country.

Know the risks with fireworks and stay safe with these safety tips. If you sustain an eye injury, contact an ophthalmologist right away.

FACTS

- 9,600 firework-related injuries occurred in 2011
- 65% of the injuries occurred during the period June 17 - July 17
 - Sparklers can burn at 2000°F, hot as a blow torch
- 25% of eye related injuries resulted in permanent vision loss

FIREWORK INJURIES

SAFETY TIPS

- Always read and follow label directions
- Always have an adult present
- Only buy from reliable fireworks sellers
- Only ignite fireworks outdoors
- Be sure to have water handy
- Never make your own fireworks
- Light only one at a time
- Never re-ignite malfunctioning fireworks
- Never give fireworks to small children
- Store fireworks in a cool, dry place
- Dispose of fireworks properly
- Never throw fireworks at another person
- Never carry fireworks in your pocket
- Never shoot fireworks in metal or glass containers
