A STEWARDSHIP MESSAGE

A Chicken or an Eagle? August 2022

“Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your minds, so that you may discern what is the will of God—what is good and acceptable and perfect.” (Romans 12:2)

Once upon a time, a man found the egg of an eagle. It had been abandoned for some reason by its mother, but as it was still warm, the man took it and put it in the nest of one of his backyard chickens along with the other eggs that were there being brooded upon.

After a period of time, the eaglet was hatched, and along with the other chicks from his next began to go about the back yard doing what the other chicks did. He scratched the earth for worms and insects. He looked for the corn that the man would throw into the yard. He clucked and cackled as best as he could, and as he grew, he would, like other chickens, thrash his wings and fly a few feet in the air.

Years passed in this way, and the eagle grew very old. One day he saw a magnificent bird far above him in the cloudless sky. It glided majestically among the powerful wind currents, soaring and swooping, scarcely beating its long golden wings.

The old eagle looked at it in awe and asked, “What is that?”

“That is the eagle, the king of birds,” said one of his neighbors. “He belongs to the sky and to the high places. We belong to the earth, we are chickens.”

The old eagle knew this was true, and so it was he lived and died as a chicken, for that is what he believed he was.

In life, our perspective determines our reality. For instance, most people believe that they need more money to be “okay” financially. How much more? It didn’t matter if they were making $25,000 or $250,000, the answer to how much more they needed was always right around 10% more. The truth is, if we haven’t learned how to manage well what we have, having more will leave us with the same set of problems.

On the other hand, developing an attitude of gratitude,¹ an abundance mindset, and planning for giving and saving in our spending plans (aka, budgets) can help us discover contentment no amount of money can give.

Pastor Jenny Lee, Ph.D.

“Nevertheless, Thanks be to God!”

“If our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the furnace of blazing fire and out of your hand, O king, let him deliver us. But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods, and we will not worship the golden statue that you have set up.” (Daniel 3:17-18)

A few days ago, I was out of town for three days, going to Pine Lake to attend a clergy retreat. When I came back, I saw my garden was messed up. My lettuce, radishes, and spinach were all gone, and there were deer footprints alongside my garden. It was terrible!! I was disappointed. I felt heartbroken over the damage and loss to my garden! What poor shape my garden was in! No, honestly, I felt sorry for myself. I felt about to cry in that moment. What can I do for my garden? Should I give up gardening? Should I make taller fences? If I make a taller fence, are my plants safe? What should I do?

I just overcame the issue of protecting my plants in the garden from gophers and moles this year. I was feeling good about the safety of my plants. But, as soon as I thought that my garden was safe from gophers the deer came. It never stops as one thing comes after the other. What can I do? I know that even if I make a taller fence for my garden, something may happen to it again. Nevertheless, I keep trying to find an excellent solution to protect them whenever I get in trouble. One day, I asked one of my parishioners, who was an experienced gardener, to share his wisdom. He said, “Plant more than you need so that even though some of them are gone, you will still have some for yourself. That’s the way I do it, he said. If you do this, you may think of it differently. When they eat your plants, you may not feel like they stole them from you, but rather that you shared your harvest with them. That way you may feel better.” What a genius idea! What great wisdom! Yes, the entire gift I have and all my possessions are given by God to share with others in need. I didn’t think of the wild animals that are also God’s creatures that need God’s grace through human beings. Through the conversation with him, I learned a little more. See, how could I stop gardening? Gardening is a joyous hobby, meditation tool, and means of God’s grace for me. Every morning and evening, I walk through my garden, pulling weeds, watering my plants, and sometimes talking with my plants. I love gardening and enjoy it. Along with my plants, I am growing in faith and wisdom daily.

Wisconsin is a beautiful state, especially for gardening. Many new Wisconsinites among my colleagues just moved to Wisconsin for their ministry. Most of them may have received the suggestion to start gardening. If they ask “how to start gardening,” some may recommend they talk to me. I am a pretty famous gardener among my colleagues. They think I am an expert gardener. But, it’s not true. I am not a professional gardener, but I am a joyful gardener. Since I moved to Wisconsin in 2019, I have kept gardening. I have a secret to enjoying gardening. My secret is that I have good advisors who help me. They are like the spiritual mentors in my faith journey. They are my parishioners and neighbors. Whenever I get in trouble with my garden, I talk with them. Then, they bring me great solutions, as I mentioned before.

One day, I got a phone call from one of my colleagues about how to plant. I shared with her the wisdom I had learned. I said, "If you need one, plant two more for the wild animals. And you put up a fence only around what is yours, and the wild animals may take the rest." We laughed a lot at that wisdom. We know everything doesn't go as we plan. Wild animals may take more than one or may ruin what is in the fence. However, as much trouble as we may experience, we learn enough to go forward. We may get in trouble in everyday life. Nevertheless, we can give thanks to God. Even though wild animals took my plants, I give thanks to God because the ones that remain remind me of God's fair and steadfast love toward all his creations.

I often recall Daniel and his friends, who were arrested in Babylon, about how their faith was great. When they were prohibited from worshiping God, they still kept worshiping God in their rooms. Finally, they stood before the king to be put in the fiery furnace. However, they said, "If our God whom we serve can deliver us from the furnace of blazing fire and out of your hand, O king, let him deliver us. But, if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods, and we will not worship the golden statue that you have set up." (Daniel 3:17-18). What a great confession of faith in God! Even though we get in trouble, we trust God, who may rescue us. But, if God doesn't save us from the crisis, we keep worshiping God.

Blessings,
Pastor Jenny

HOW LONG

“How long will you judge unjustly and show partiality to the wicked?” --Psalm 82:2

Siblings in Christ,

We return from another weekend, suffering the ripples from gun violence. At least six people were killed and 30 injured on Monday after a gunman fired on the crowd at a Fourth of July parade in Highland Park, Illinois. This was the nation's 309th mass shooting this year. 71 were shot and 8 killed in Chicagoland over the weekend. Given the number of racially motivated shootings in this country, family and friends from Korea always ask me, 'are you safe?'

The violence experienced at a parade is a reminder to pray not only for the people of Highland Park, but those who suffer memories of the violence at the holiday parade in Waukesha.

The Spirit is suggesting Psalm 82 for the lectionary this week. It opens with a courtroom scene comprised of God and lesser gods—the other powers that show up in psalms and the prophets as Israel deals with Canaanite thinking that cannot conceive a life-giving Oneness at work in creation.

God calls all other lesser lights to account in v.2: “how long will you judge unjustly and show partiality to the wicked?” These are the words of lament, of loss, of noting the waste of gun violence, the ripples of trauma, the children who now factor in the truth that the grown-ups around them lack the moral imagination to adequately protect them. How long must we bear systems that protect the powerful at the expense of the children? How long?

In verse 3, Psalm 82 hears God call out to all who hold power: “give justice to the weak and the orphan; maintain the right of the lowly and destitute.” For all who exercise power and influence, God's mission is to uphold justice and to use God's people to bear witness to covenantal life.

The second imperative in the psalm is: “rescue.” May we rescue our capacity to hold parades in our land without fear. May we rescue those who have suffered injury in Highland Park. May we rescue the ability to walk into a grocery store or a service of worship without fear. May we rescue the church from the powerful forces at work in this country to “Other” people and to exclude.

Jesus is always the stranger at the door, the unexpected one who calls us to open to him that we may eat with him and he with us. Jesus is the one who calls us to open, to be the meek who inherit the earth. I would call us to a life together that opens doors to Jesus, to nonviolence, to meekness, to cultural humility, to the need to carry no bag, nor purse to insulate ourselves, to consider the lilies who do not live in fear. Bear witness to the way Jesus gives life and the Spirit can use our witness. If not, how long will we walk around in darkness?

I continue my walk of El Camino de Santiago, walking the way of St. James during my renewal leave. Know that I am praying for you. Please continue to pray for me, and our life together.

Peace,

Bishop Hee-Soo Jung, PhD.

SUMMER SAFETY

TIPS FOR ADULTS

DO

STAY HYDRATED.

Drink at least eight glasses of water and/or fruit juices every day.

STAY INDOORS.

In extreme heat and high humidity, the body works harder to maintain a normal temperature. Limit your outdoor activity to the morning and the evening.

DRESS APPROPRIATELY.

Loose-fitting and lightweight clothing is best. Dress in lighter colors that reflect the sun and heat.

PROTECT YOUR SKIN AND EYES.

Wear sunglasses to block harmful UV rays. Wear sunscreen of SPF30 or higher.

KNOW THE SIGNS OF HEAT-RELATED ILLNESSES SUCH AS DEHYDRATION, HEAT STROKE, HEAT EXHAUSTION, ETC.

DON'T

OVERDO ALCOHOLIC AND CAFFEINATED BEVERAGES SUCH AS SODA, COFFEE AND TEA LEAVE YOU DEHYDRATED QUICKLY.

FORGET TO USE A FAN OR AIR CONDITIONER.

WEAR DARKER COLORS THAT ATTRACT THE SUN AND HEAT.

FORGET TO WEAR A HAT AND GLASSES.

HESITATE TO TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION IF YOU FEEL ANY SYMPTOMS.
